Biocidin Botanicals Supply Policy & Guidelines for Health Professionals

Purpose of the Supply Policy

Brand Protection – Biocidin Botanicals formulations is a professional supplement brand, requiring expert consultation from qualified health professionals before selling to customers to ensure the right formulations are sold and to enhance health outcomes. Part of our contractual obligations with our parent company is to uphold the brand at all times.

Accurate Information – on regular occasions, we may need to update our product labels, educational material (such as Product Sheets) and website content to ensure we provide customers with the latest and most accurate content and adhere to regulatory advertising requirements.

Safety - Unauthorized American sellers of Biocidin Botanicals have recently entered the Australian and New Zealand markets. Because they don't appear to be purchasing from our parent company www.biocidin.com we do not know if they are selling genuine Biocidin Botanicals products.

Once your account is approved, you are permitted to sell Biocidin Botanicals through your online website, health store or pharmaceutical dispensary, provided you adhere to the Supply and Policy Guidelines outlined below.

Website Information Permitted for Display to the General Public

Biocidin Botanicals Logo - Your approved website may display the Biocidin Botanicals Logo to reference availability of the brand. The colours available are blue and grey (refer graphics below).

These are the official registered Biocidin Logos. They are NOT to be altered in anyway if using on your authorised website.

Product Image – Images of all of the Biocidin Botanicals formulations can be displayed on the website for the general public, however they must be images that are accompanied with the following statement (refer the example below).

Once your account is approved, any images displayed online must include the consult requirement message. These images can be found at nutriscript.co.nz (once you have logged in to your account).

The product images of all the current Biocidin Botanicals formulations are for registered clinic/practitioner websites, approved health stores and dispensaries. These images are NOT for marketplaces, third-party resale listings, or for forwarding.

Pricing - Prices of the Biocidin Botanicals products are NOT to be displayed to the general public on your website.

Website Information Permitted for Display Behind a Firewall or Login

Once behind a firewall or login on your website, you are permitted to display pricing, authorised product graphics and product labels. These documents can be sourced from the Nutritional Medicine NZ website (www.nutritionalmedicinenz.com) or the Nutriscript website (www.nutriscript.co.nz) once you are logged in to your account. Only source educational content from these channels to ensure you have the most up to date and accurate information.

Other educational documents including the Product Usage Charts, Clinical Protocols, and White Papers are NOT permitted to be displayed to customers behind the firewall or login (they are strictly for health professional education).

Health Stores and Pharmaceutical Dispensaries

Health professional accounts that own a health store or pharmaceutical dispensary are permitted to sell Biocidin Botanicals products provided they strictly adhere to the following guidelines:

- The health store or pharmacy ensures the products are positioned behind the counter and out of public reach
- Only dispense product following a consultation from a qualified health professional in store, or via a phone consult, or upon receipt of a prescription from a qualified health practitioner (consultation records and prescription forms must be safely kept on file). A consultation should include the following information:
 - Presenting complaint
 - History or presenting complaint
 - Pharmaceutical and supplement schedule
 - Contributing Diet/Environmental/Lifestyle factors
 - Diagnostic and prognostic summary
 - Therapeutic intervention and duration
 - Follow up recommendations
- Products are not available for public purchase on the health store or dispensary website unless strictly following website display requirements in this document.
- Products are not to be donated, gifted or resold to any retail establishment
- Nutritional Medicine NZ and/or Nutriscript must be notified if the Biocidin Botanicals account holder (approved health professional) leaves or sells the health store or pharmacy.

From time to time, Brand representatives may mystery shop to ensure Biocidin Botanicals products are being sold according to the Supply and Policy Guidelines.

We reserve the right to remove Biocidin Botanicals formulations from health stores or pharmaceutical dispensaries when stored or sold inappropriately.

Adherence and Monitoring of the Supply Policy and Guidelines

Health practitioners authorised to sell Biocidin Botanicals through their online stores, health store and pharmaceutical dispensaries must adhere at all times to the guidelines in this Supply Policy. We take product breaches seriously and proactively monitor health professional accounts.

Failure to adhere to the guidelines will result in a written warning from either Nutritional Medicine NZ or Nutriscript. If changes aren't made within 7 days, Nutritional Medicine NZ will follow through with suspension of your Biocidin Botanicals account.

If your account has been suspended, you are required to immediately remove all Biocidin Botanicals graphics, product links along with the Approved Reseller badge as well as any search engine indexes such as Google or other search engines.

If the breach has not been remedied, we will follow through with termination of your account and if necessary legal takedown action.

Declaration

I, _____ have read the Supply and Policy Guidelines and agree to adhere to all the conditions. I understand that Nutritional Medicine NZ reserves the right to cease supply immediately if the products are stored or sold inappropriately, or if multiple breaches have occurred.
